

Did You Know
By Pat J. Klrwin.

THAT three Circleville men and an aged resident of Williamsport were members of the city's first independent militia company, the Circleville Zouaves, whose organization began Oct. 4, 1876. William Todd of Walnut-st; Melvin H. Lowe of E. Main-st; Charles T. Eaton of E. Corwin-st, and Samuel B. Ulm of Williamsport, were among the first to enlist in the company, which was captained by John C. McFadden, father of Charles McFadden of Watt-st.

Besides the six mentioned above others who volunteered and enlisted in the company: Charles L. Littleton, James W. Simpson, Orrin F. Thompson, Frank Parrett, Otto C. Thompson, Lewis L. Palm, J. F. Lerch, Davis C. Spickler, L. O. Anderson, William C. Doubleday, James C. Anderson, James G. Sample, George W. Miller, Gottlieb Beck, John Heiser, Joseph Christy, Howard F. Brown, William H. Pinnix, Charles T. Pedrick, C. Edmund Mueller, D. L. Peters, Edward Ebert, Abram Lamaster, Jack T. Bowling, Edward K. Rife, Charles Elmrod, Mark Howell, Albert D. Schumm, Bernard Van Heyde, Eli D. Kelley, James W. Denman, Willis H. Rogers, Clarence Gregg, Adam Kraft, William Mueller, Sylvester F. Boyles, Frank R. Washburn, Henry Kraft, Jerome H. Moyst, Robert W. Kelly, Desoto Conrad, and Ed. Will.

William N. Todd was one of the youngest to enlist.

Mr. McFadden received his commission as captain of the company from Governor William Allen of Ohio, on Nov. 22, 1876.

Members, enlisted in the services of Ohio, swore to maintain the honor and integrity of the state, to defend her and to repel or prevent invasion, to prevent and suppress riots and insurrections and to sustain civil authorities whenever and wherever they might be called to duty within the intent of the act. They also promised to drill correctly and efficiently and perform their duty for a period of five years unless discharged sooner by competent authority.

The Zouaves attended many great events including the funeral of President Garfield and General Sherman; the Columbian Exposition and the dedication of Chickamauga battle field as a national park.

BROWN SCORES 'SELFISHNESS'

Retiring Secretary of State Warns Against 'Short Campaigns'

COLUMBUS, Jan. 7.—A warning against the "selfish ambitions" of candidates went out to the Republican party of Ohio today from Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, defeated gubernatorial aspirant who will leave office Monday after three terms.

To stage a comeback in Ohio, the party must repudiate individual selfishness, abolish short "feverish" campaigns, and make use of a steady year-round program of education of voters.

Brown's solution for reviving the party was presented to 900 persons who gave him a farewell dinner. The guests included county Republican chairmen, board of election workers, and well-wishers who hope he will run for the governorship again in 1934.

SILENT ON FUTURE

Brown, however, gave no indication of his political intentions.

"This is not the time," he said "for promotion of candidacies or selfish ambitions."

"Rather," Republican party endeavor must be directed toward the good of the whole party. The obvious error of trying to win campaigns in a few short weeks of feverish and fruitless excitement and activity preceding the election must be permanently discarded.

"A steady year-round program of proper education of the voters and a thorough explanation of its purposes and accomplishments of our party is necessary," he declared.

Mrs. Brown and the secretary of state's three children, as well as members of his "official family," attended the farewell testimonial.

BANK ACTION DELAYS SALE

Chillicothe Institution Asks Injunction Against Sale of Corn.

A sheriff's sale scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday was at least temporarily halted when the Savings Bank Co. of Chillicothe filed an injunction against the Canal Winchester Bank and Sheriff Charles Rader.

The plaintiff, represented by W. Allen Scott, charged in its application for a temporary injunction to restrain the sale of 1025 bushels of corn, that the corn belongs to the bank instead of to M. D. Aldenderfer as claimed.

An injunction hearing will be held before Judge J. W. Adkins on Jan. 14th at 10 a. m.

COOLIDGE MINISTER

Rev. Albert Penner, who will conduct the funeral services for former President Calvin Coolidge in the Edwards Congregational Church at Northampton, Mass.

COOLIDGE TO REST BESIDE FATHER, SON

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 7.—Calvin Coolidge, who rose from farm boy to president, will be returned to the good earth today.

Following a brief funeral service in the Massachusetts town where his political fortune began, the remains of the thirtieth American president will be transported to Plymouth, Vt., his birthplace.

In the shadow of the spot where he was born 60 years ago, Coolidge will be buried in the family graveyard. It is rocky soil, followed with the bones of six generations of Puritan ancestors, a resting place older than the country he served in silent wisdom.

He will lie between the graves of his father, John Coolidge, and his son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., both of whose deaths saddened his days in the White House.

LICKING-CO MAN SUCCEEDS M'GUIRE AS OHIO BUILDING AND LOAN HEAD

Youthful Exile Baffles Cincinnati's Authorities

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—Police psychologists today investigated the strange behavior of Arthur Doebrick, gray-haired at 22, who voluntarily exiled himself in a cellar three years ago, accepting self-torture because, he says, his father denied him adequate clothing.

Physicians at General Hospital believe the youth is sane.

His hair matted and reaching to his shoulders, his coat and trousers in tatters, his face unshaven, he was removed from the cellar by police yesterday after neighbors had reported that his family acted mysteriously about his whereabouts.

Arthur, when questioned, said that he was a voluntary prisoner, sleeping on a coal pile, living in unheated surroundings, never changing his garments, because his father three years ago refused to furnish him with "decent clothes."

He was ashamed to be seen because of the clothing provided him, he said.

His father, Adolphe Doebrick, placed under arrest, declared he gave all his money to Mrs. Doebrick, the boy's mother, who could not be found.

The mentality of the self-exiled prisoner is baffling to authorities.

FEW 'IFS' BLOCK BALANCE IN TREASURY AUDITOR'S REPORT TO COUNCIL OF CITY REVEALS

Deficit of $4,521.05 at Advent of 1932, Large Street Light and Hydrant Rental Bills Cause City To Be $9,906.67 In 'Debt' at Opening of Business in 1933.

A few big "ifs" stood in the way of a surplus in the city's general fund at the end of 1932, the financial report of the year's business as prepared by Miss Lillian Young, city auditor, disclosed.

If there had been no $4,521.05 deficit at the end of 1931 things would have been better.

If the city did not owe a street light bill of $6,899.67 the deficit would not be so large.

If the city had its water hydrant rental bill of $4,482.50 paid matters would be improved.

But they aren't so the city has a deficit. The report of Miss Young shows that even though in 1932 an overdraft of $4,521.05 existing at the close of business in 1931 was absorbed a balance remained in the general government fund of $2,180.93. Besides the bills owed the utilities other outstanding bills including $301.56 in the police department, $240.29 in the general fund and $163.58 in the service department. The total of outstanding bills is $12,087.60 leaving the city in debt $9,906.67 at the beginning of 1933.

DISCLOSES FIGURES

Miss Young's report shows that receipts for the year amounted to $42,394.07, gained from the following sources; from general tax, $29,513.91; classified tax, $7,645.82; inheritance tax, $1,989.23; cigarette tax, $231.47; fines and costs, $650.22; licenses, $97.70; fees, $26.10; interest, $165.55; rent for third floor city building, $37.50; junk, $4; state aid for health, $512; railroad lights, $882.52; sewer permits, $265; and excavation permits, $2.26.

In listing the city's expenditures which totalled $35,692.09, the auditor started with general government expense. The bills were salary of members of council, $960; clerk of council salary and incidentals, $369.50; mayor salary $900, stationery, $94.45 and incidentals, $369.50; totalling $1003.95; Auditor, salary, $1230, stationery, $100, incidentals, $13.75; Treasurer, salary, $400, bond, $100, incidentals, $10; Solicitor, salary $700, stationery $9, incidentals $9.95, law library $18, as assistant solicitor in Berger will case, $1000; Election, booth rental $140, incidentals $39.25; legal advertising, $450; civil service salaries of members $150 and incidentals $125. Damages, to Grant Street $125.

SAFETY DEPARTMENT

Fire: regular firemen, $6,742.38; special firemen, $70.30; fuel light and supplies, $228.62; equipment and hose, $37.10; fire alarm system, $63.53, total $7,141.93.

Police: salary of safety director, $600; incidentals, $6.85; regular police, $5,875.59; incidentals, $199.27; special police, $25; sustenance of prisoners, $50, total $6,756.71.

Outdoor relief: Food supplies, $554.80; physician, $470.50; burials, $190, total $1,215.30.

BOHNERT ASKS TWO MEASURES

Representative Would Eliminate Party Lines in Primary Elections.

A bill aimed at a severe blow to political party lines, should it be finally passed by both houses of the Ohio General Assembly, has been introduced in the lower house of the Legislature by Nathan C. Bohnert of Monroe-twp, Pickaway-co's representative to the law-making body.

Mr. Bohnert has also introduced a bill relative to the hiring of superintendents of county schools. The first measure would abolish the requirement upon voters to disclose their partisanship at primary elections. Under provisions of Mr. Bohnert's measure each voter would be given a ballot for each party at the primaries from which he or she could select the ballot of their party choice after they had entered the booth where they could discard the others.

At the same time it would be Continued on Page Three.

 The Pageant last night—"The Dream that Came True," taught a vital lesson. God has a claim on our time and wealth, whatever our talents, our resources, much or little. Stewardship is the recognition that all we have comes from God and that we owe him the accounting of the use to which we put our lives, our talents, our time, our money. The recognition of this claim by men generally would mean a transformed world.
 Selfishness and grasping would be under divine control. We would live by love and a sense of divine responsibility. It is what our world needs. It is not true that each man can go for himself. We are bound together in the bundle of life. What affects one, affects us all. The church emphasizes this unity of life leading to brotherhood in thought and action. Go to church tomorrow. Take a friend.

THE CHURCH FOR THE SUPREME NEED

Newton D. Baker has said, "A soup line is not enough; a man's spirit must be saved as well as his body." Mr. Baker insists that the agencies which develop and sustain character are "indispensable to any effort which confronts poverty, want and disease." Courage, morale and wise guidance are needed today as they have seldom been in the history of our country."

It must be remembered that the supreme character building agency is the church. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Church Forum

What are the functions of the Educational Agencies of the Church?
 A careful study of the ways in which educational agencies are affecting life in the modern church shows that they have five functions. Some agencies have one primary function, while others may have several functions and it is difficult to determine which is the chief function. The five general functions of the educational agencies are worship, instruction, service, play or fellowship and administration.

What are the new emphases in Religious Education?
 Until recently Christian education has been thought to be chiefly concerned with instruction with increasing Biblical information of pupils, giving them a broader intellectual grasp on the teachings of the Christian religion. Of course it is true, that knowledge has an important place in the transformation of character. It is not by knowledge, alone, however, that character is influenced. It is generally recognized today that worship, service and play profoundly influence character and therefore increased emphasis is being placed on worship programs, service activities as seen in the project method of teaching and in supervised recreational programs.

Labor is the price which is set upon everything worth having.
 Any fool can find faults; the wise man discovers virtues.

The lucky man is he who sees and grasps his opportunities.
 To save time is to lengthen life.
 A man can become so apologetic that he becomes offensive.

Home Education

THE VALUE OF GOOD HOME
TRAINING
 "Calvin, you did not bring in your wood," said John Coolidge to his son after the lad had retired.
 Calvin arose, dressed and went out with a lantern. The woodbox was never forgotten again.
 Calvin Coolidge as a lad worked diligently on the Vermont farm and often helped his father in a general store. In later life, his father paid the boy this compliment, "It always seemed to me that Calvin could get more sap out of a tree than any other boy around here."
 The Coolidge home had few rules; there was one that covered nearly all occasions. "Do you job-get it done on time—do it well."
 This rule gave young Calvin an opportunity to plan his own day, to watch his time and map out his activities. It taught him to assume responsibility and live up to it.
 Once a piece of work was assigned, the father walked off.
 There was no standing over the boy driving him to accomplishment. The confident anticipation of the father became the unfailing response of the son.

Lesson for January 8

JESUS BEGINS HIS WORK

Mark 1:12-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent ye, and believe the gospel, Mark 1:15.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' First
 Helpers
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Winning a Victory.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR
TOPIC—Jesus' Good Beginnings.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT
TOPIC—Jesus Facing His Task.

1. The Divine Servant Meeting and Overcoming the Devil (vv. 12, 13).
 The temptation in the wilderness was Messianic. It was not a preparation of Jesus for his work but the first conflict. Since he had come to destroy the devil (Heb. 2:14), he at once engaged in that struggle which was to issue in Satan's defeat.
 1. The Spirit driveth him (v. 12).
 This shows how really Christ was under the control of the Spirit.
 "Driveth" is the same Greek word which is used in connection with Christ casting out devils (See Mark 1:34-35).
 2. He was in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan (v. 13). Not that he fasted forty days and was then tempted, but that the struggle with the devil lasted forty days.
 3. He was with the wild beasts
 (v. 13). The clear implication is that he not only overcame the devil but had dominion over the wild beasts also.
 4. The angel ministered unto him
 (v. 13). These superhuman messengers doubtless ministered to him all through the forty days.
 11. The Divine Servant Preaching
 (vv. 14, 15).
 Jesus does not first present himself as a miracle worker, but as a preacher, a bearer of a message.
 Miracles were but the credentials of the messenger.

1. Where he preached—in Galilee
 (v. 14). Galilee was particularly his country. His ministry there was some distance removed from Jerusalem, and there less opposition would likely be manifest.
 2. What he preached—the gospel of the Kingdom of God (v. 14). Since "gospel" means "good news," the essential content of his message was that God had sent him to announce the good news of the near approach of the Kingdom of God, or the rule of God upon the earth.
 3. What he demanded—repentance and belief of the gospel (v. 15).
 He showed that the way to get ready for the coming of the Kingdom is to repent and believe the gospel of Christ's death for sin, and his coming to administer the affairs of righteousness upon the earth.

III. The Divine Servant Calling
 Associates (vv. 16-20).
 Knowing that his ministry would be short, he called to definite fellowship men to continue the work after he was gone.
 1. Who they were (vv. 16, 19).
 Simon and Andrew, James and John—two pairs of brothers. It is usually wise to engage in the Lord's service in fellowship—in pairs. This is not only necessary for effective testimony, but for protection of the witnesses. These men had become Christ's disciples, for at the word of John the Baptist they had believed the "Lamb of God which tak-eth away the sin of the world" (John 1:36-42). This is always the Lord's way. He calls men and women to be his disciples and then calls them to have fellowship with him in service.

2. From what they were called (vv. 16-20). They were called from business and family connections. In looking for men worth while, we should expect to find them busily engaged. James and John left their father and his servants. The call of God involves sacrifice and separation.

2. To what they were called (v. 17). To become fishers of men. These men, no doubt, had been successful as fishers. The qualities which made them good fishermen, namely: patience, bravery which led them to face the storm at night, and perseverance which led them to toil all night though no fish were caught, would make them good fishers of men. Winning souls for Christ requires patience, bravery and perseverance.
 4. Obedience of the disciples (vv.
 18-20). Obedience to Christ's call meant sacrifice, painful separation.
 It means to give up business interests. They yielded prompt obedience. They put their trust in him who called them, believing that he was able to supply all their needs.
 5. Their reward (v. 17). These four men have wielded wondrous influence in the world. Their names have become immortalized. Had they remained at their business they would only have been humble fishermen.

TIGERS LOSE 22-20 TO GRANDVIEW

Rally Falters In Final Second

When two shots, one by Bill Hegele and one by Billy Steele, rolled off the basket then fell in the wrong direction Friday evening in the last minute of play the Red and Black lost its first Central Buckeye league contest. Grandview was the winner by a 22-20 score.

Grandview probably had a right to win, however, because it took better advantage of its scoring opportunities than did the Tigers. Paul Glass, excellent visiting forward, was held down in nice shape by Dean White making four goals, all from comparatively long range, out of probably twice that many shots. Wells, Grandview center, scored five action shots a couple of them plenty lucky.

Had the Red and Black been on its shots the local team would have won comfortably. Many shots were made only to have them roll off the hoop doing no damage.

TRAIL THRU GAME

The Tigers scored first when Bill Hegele dribbled into the net but the lead was shortlived when Glass then Wells broke loose to run the Bobcats score to 9 at the end of the first period. The Tigers had seven with Hegele again scoring from the floor and Leasure counting three free throws.

Each team scored four points in the second period Hegele getting an action shot and a free throw and Leasure a foul while Glass's two buckets from the side aided his team.

Grandview took a comparatively comfortable lead in the third period running up seven points to the Tigers' three. Leasure's bucket and Hegele's foul were all the locals could get while Wells, Glass and Berdelman scored from the field and Niple from the foul line. The final period started 20-14 for Grandview.

Jackson Defeats Walnut

Record of Holes in One

It is much easier to make a hole in one at this game than it is in golf, might be what Bobby Jones, former monarch of the golf world, was thinking as this picture was made. Bobby is shown (right) with Melvin Taylor, Chicago financier and possibility for the new Roosevelt cabinet, as they exhibited the bag which fell to their guns in a hunt near Atlanta, Ga., recently.

Coach Lamp's Boys Remain Undefeated in County Scramble.

By REYNOLD GREENE

In defeating Walnut-two Friday night by a score of 27 to 17, the Jackson-two cage team made it very plainly known that they are to be serious contenders for the county basketball crown when the county tournament rolls around.

The first quarter was pretty even in scoring with Jackson scoring one field goal and Walnut two charity tosses to tie the score. In this stanza both teams played more of a defensive game testing out the strength of the others' offense. The play was tight with neither team having any apparent advantage over the other.

The second canto, however, saw Jackson boys loosen up scoring 10 points to Walnut's five.

Clark was the outstanding player for Jackson in this session and was constantly checking his man and scoring, too.

NEARLY IN TIE

The third quarter saw Jackson lengthen its lead to 21 points while the Walnut boys seemed to be having a hard time gathering in a few points to make their total 13 at the end of the third canto.

Fireworks a plenty started in the last quarter when Walnut staged a big rally early in the period to come within one point of tying the score. N. Walters, Clark, Wagner and Back were ousted on personal fouls late in the game for Jackson.

This was the fifth consecutive victory for Jackson and now there remains but two undefeated county teams, New Holland, and Jackson, and next week will see both of these teams meeting for the first time this year on the hard wood court.

New Holland is rated higher than Jackson due to the fact that it is the defending county champion but if Jackson plays good basketball its chances of winning may even become greater.

Clark and Festes Walters were high point men for the Jackson crew with 12 and 10 counters while their teammates, Wagner and Back, gave excellent performance of floor work. Walnut's high point man was Bartholomew with 6 points.

JACKSON GIRLS WIN, 45 TO 38

Victory Comes As Surprise With Walnut-Two Team Highly Rated.

Jackson-two girls' team pulled a surprise Friday night when it edged out the Walnut sextet in a thrilling game by a score of 45 to 38 on the Jackson floor.

Neither team had much of an advantage over the other throughout the game.

With Fisher and Fortner leading the scoring attack for the Jackson team, the Walnut team fought back hard and fast and in the closing minutes of the game seemed ready to overtake them.

Fischer was high scorer for Jackson with 22 points while DeLong lead Walnut scoring with 17 counters to her credit.

Miss Fisher, the scoring ace of Jackson, proved herself a game athlete when she was injured in the third quarter but kept on playing without mentioning the fact until after the game. She suffered a painful back injury.

Far East Colleagues Reunited

Edward Hunter, International News Service correspondent who revealed the story of the massacre of 2,000 Chinese in Manchuria, is shown as he was greeted by Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent, on his arrival in New York from the Far East. Hunter's "beat," regarded as one of the greatest achievements in journalism for 1932, was responsible for his withdrawal from Manchuria for fear of possible "reprisals" by the Japanese.

BIG TEN OPENS

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—All ten of the western conference basketball machines swing into action tonight to open the Big Ten championship race.

Headlining the five contests is the clash between the title defending Purdue five and a strong Minnesota team at Indianapolis. Both teams are rated in the top flight of contenders for the championship this year.

In the other games tonight a strong Northwestern team meets Illinois at Champaign, Ill.; Chicago engages Wisconsin at Madison, Wis.; Indiana clashes with Ohio State at Columbus and Michigan plays Iowa at Iowa City.

As the season opens four teams, Purdue, Northwestern, Ohio State and Minnesota have qualified as the leading contenders in this year's race, each having lost but one game out of five preliminary engagements.

DRYS ATTACK COLLIER BILL

Six Hour Debate Opens Before Committee; Wets To Talk Last.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—An imposing array of dry leaders today assailed the Collier 3.2 per cent beer bill as unconstitutional at hearings held before the Senate judiciary committee.

The dries opened a six hour debate, with wet leaders to be heard later in defense of the bill.

Edward B. Duford, Andrew Wilson and Robert H. McNeill, attorneys for the Anti-Saloon league, presented the dries legal arguments against modification of prohibition. They declared the Collier bill would "thwart the 15th amendment, defeat the purpose of national prohibition, and leave helpless thousands at the mercy of old king alcohol."

MRS. RODGERS, 76, DIES IN COLUMBUS

Mrs. Thomas McManamy received word Saturday of the death of her cousin, Mrs. Mary J. Rodgers, wife of Charles Rodgers at her home on Cleveland-ave., Columbus.

Mrs. Rodgers would have been 65 years of age today. Pneumonia, after a few days' illness, caused her death late Friday.

She was the daughter of the late William and Melissa McKinley Marburger and was a native of Fairfield-co where her parents lived on what is familiarly known as "The Ridge," near Amanda.

She was twice married, her first husband, John Wardell, passed away about 18 years ago. Besides her husband she is also survived by an adopted son, Robert, two sisters, Mrs. Estella Knox and Mrs. Elsie McIntyre and a brother, George E. Marburger, all of Columbus.

Mrs. Rodgers was a member of Loran Chapter Order of Eastern Star and also of the Noble M. E. church. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Mrs. McManamy and Mrs. Rodgers' Gessley, cousins, were reared on the same farm with the Rodgers.

The receipts of cattle at the Chillicothe market were heavier, and with a good demand, the market ruled generally active to strong. Most of the stock was of fair to good quality with the bulk of the animals selling in the 4 to 5 cent range. Hogs were in demand with most of those at the market going above 3.25. As compared to the Chillicothe market of a week ago, hogs, weaners, and lambs stood barely steady to 15 cents lower. The bulk of cattle sold today went direct for packer consumption with the remainder of the stock billed out to terminal centers for redistribution.

And now if anybody should get rich by finding a bundle of old bonds in the attic, that would be news.

away with ballot boxes bearing party designation. It has been said that should the act finally be approved it would result in the printing of at least three times as many ballots, but still if the idea of political party lines at primary elections could be destroyed, it is believed the measure would fulfill its purpose and the extra expense would not be noticed.

Mr. Bohnert could not be reached Saturday for a statement, although he is expected to have more to say about the bill at a later time.

The other measure introduced by Bohnert would permit the county boards of education, at regular meetings, held not later than July 20, to appoint either part-time or full-time superintendents. In instances where they were appointed on a full time basis, it would be mandatory that they serve terms in office of not more than three years, beginning Aug. 1.

CRIMINALS AGAIN FACE CERMAK IRE

Chicago Mayor Orders Police To Drive All Gangsters, Racketeers Out.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Mayor Anton J. Cermak today began a sweeping drive to rid the city of gangsters and lesser criminals, sparing neither "big shot" nor small fry.

The mayor's new offensive was directed not only at the underworld chiefs but against the lesser figures known to be connected with gangland's activities. He announced that every man and woman engaged in racketeering and liquor enterprises will be forced to leave the city.

His latest campaign, the Mayor said, will be directed particularly against those engaged in the alcohol and beer industries.

The detective bureau, on the mayor's orders, today was drawing up a complete list of every known racketeer and hoodlum in the metropolis. Between 500 and 700 names have already found their way to the detective bureau's roster of undesirables.

Treasured Thoughts

Knowledge humbleth the great man, astonisheth the common man, and puffeth up the little man.

Men give me credit for genius; but all the genius I have lies in this: When I have a subject on hand I study it profoundly. The effect I make they call the fruit of genius; it is, however, the fruit of labor and thought.

—Alexander Hamilton.

I longed to accomplish great and noble tasks, but it is my chief duty and joy to accomplish humble tasks as though they were great and noble.

—Helen Keller.

Strength of character consists of two things—power of will and power of self restraint.

—Robertson.

Think Of Others

If times are hard and you feel blue, Think of others worrying too: Just because your trials are many, Don't think the rest of us haven't any. Life is made up of smiles and tears, Joys and sorrows, mixed with fears; And though to us it seems one-sided, Trouble is pretty well divided. If we could look into every heart, We'd find that each one has its part. And those who travel fortune's road, Sometimes carry the biggest load.

Secondary Schools

HARRISON H. VAN COTT
The secondary school of yesterday was a college preparatory institution which gathered in as many eighth-grade promotees as chose to come, and eliminated most of them before the end of the senior year by giving them all the same dose of factual materials, according to the dictates of higher institutions which were supposed to receive twelfth-grade graduates, many of whom never came.

The secondary school of today is an emerging school which is on its way in developing a plan of education for life, but which has not arrived, except in spots. Tomorrow, college preparatory courses will not be given so freely in every small high school to the exclusion of other courses, but will be given in the large schools only, but within reach of all. Tomorrow practical arts, fine arts, business, and general courses will predominate in the majority of secondary schools.

What A Grade Really Means

What is a grade? Does an average of 95 or over indicate that its possessor is intelligent? Does a 70 or below mark it's owner as unintelligent? Is the pupil who graduates with a 95 more intelligent than the one who falls lower by a point?

Educators generally agree that a grade is merely a symbol which makes a weak effort to indicate the amount of learning acquired by a person over a definite period of time. Many educators argue the grading system as we know it is very inaccurate. Experiments are now being tried in colleges to see if some better method cannot be worked out.

In high schools we find three types of people who are interested in grades. The people who cheat for them, the people who work for grades only, and those who desire knowledge before a grade. The first two types desire a grade for reasons of conceit. The latter type desire the grade only if accompanied by the supreme satisfaction that comes from acquisition of knowledge.

A grade itself is meaningless if the person who possesses it does not have something more material. If he can say, "I still have my health, I have never cheated, and I really feel I have learned something," then, whether his average be 95 or 75, he has made more than a grade—he has made "the grade."

Salt & Pepper

When asked a favor that you can grant, do it cordially, as if it really were a pleasure. It should be.

If there is no such thing as pain, what is it some people give us?

No matter what happens, there is always some who knew it would.

It is more blessed to give than receive—we are talking about advice.

The young fellow who lost his bearings while out riding with his lady friend at least was original. Most fellows run out of gas.

One sure way to get the last word in an argument is to say, "All right."

A THOROUGHbred

One day, years ago, when Theodore Roosevelt was a boy, his father said to him, "Theodore, do you know what a thoroughbred is? Well, I'll show you. See those two dogs? Well, this one—and he picked up an ugly-looking, lowbred pup and gave him a gentle shaking, causing yelps and barks and howls to rend the air—"this is not a thoroughbred."

Then he picked up a fine-looking, handsome young dog and shook him hard not a sound coming forth. "There said the father, 'that's your thoroughbred. Be a thoroughbred, my boy, and whatever happens, don't squeal'—Trotty Veck Message

Facts About Your Face

By RUTH NEWLAND

When someone tells you a funny story, your face wrinkles with laughter. At a sad story, your face wrinkles in weeping. Smiles and tears are such commonplaces that we never give a thought as to how or why we laugh or cry. Yet the ability thus to express emotions is one of the most wonderful faculties in our physical make up. Upon the manner in which we make use of this gift may depend in large measure our success or failure in life.

We have never consciously learned to smile, and yet, when we feel happy, we smile without effort. We have sets of face muscles to produce expression. Some of these muscles make us look sad and some happy. Every time a set of these face muscles is used the face assumes some expression. When you exert your muscles to smile, your exert your pleasant. When you use your muscles to frown, your face is very unpleasant.

The muscles you use most will naturally become the strongest. And the strongest muscles will determine the expression of the face. If your face is unpleasant, you can make it agreeable by altering the expression. If you use your smiling muscles most, your face will gradually become pleasant to look upon. On the other hand, if you allow yourself to think mean things, your face will reflect that meaning.

Nature has provided another rule governing expression that is still more wonderful. As we have seen, we do not consciously have to learn to use our muscles of expression. That knowledge is born in us. A certain frame of mind produces a certain facial expression. Try to feel happy, and see how pleasant your face looks. Try to feel cross, and see how disagreeable your face becomes.

A certain expression of the face will produce a corresponding frame of mind. Smile, and right away you feel pleasant. Frown, and you look ugly and immediately feel mean and disagreeable. You cannot continue to laugh and smile with out soon beginning to feel happy. You cannot feel worried and disagreeable with out making your face very unpleasant to see.

If your disposition is sunny and gracious your face will beam with gladness and everybody will know at a glance that you are lovable. The older you grow the more distinctly your face will tell the story.

When we see a child with a face full of courage, hope, truth, good-cheer and kindness, we pick that child quick. That is the sort that people are looking for. If, then, our face have so much to do with our future success, isn't it worth while to try to make them attractive by being attractive themselves.

Pageant-Play Huge Success; Hear Demands for Repetition

The Grand Opera House was filled to capacity for the pageant-play "The Dream That Came True" by Revs. David A. Johnson and Clarke Billings, presented Friday evening by the local churches as one of their regular services of the week of union meetings.

Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, general chairman of the play, deserves much credit for the manner in which the presentation was made. The pageant-play was well received by the audience.

Due to the fact that there was an overflowing crowd present and a number were turned away, a demand that another presentation of the play be made in the near future, was apparent. If at all possible Mrs. Eagleson and her committee will comply with this demand.

Sharing praise with Mrs. Eagleson for the success of the pageant are Mrs. Tom Renick and Mrs. George McDowell, who helped with the direction of the play; Mrs. Mack Noggle, Dwight Steele, Mrs. William Burns, Miss Mary Marfield, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. C. O. Kerns, Mrs. L. D. Young and Mrs. Wayne Rogers. The above mentioned are representatives of the various missionary societies of the city, who sponsored the service.

Mrs. Eagleson today thanked the committee, the cast and all those who aided in any way to make the play a success.

Mrs. Eagleson said Saturday that if there are sufficient requests for the second presentation of the pageant-play it will be repeated. Persons interested in its showing the second time should make themselves known. The proceeds, Mrs. Eagleson said, would be divided among various missionary societies.

London Gift Shoppe Was Stage for Romance of Baruch Scion

Marriage of American Prince Charming to Salesgirl Climaxed Fight to Restore Her Illusions, Shattered by Contact with Grasping Brides to Be.

Mr. and Mrs. BERNARD BARUCH, JR.

Bernard M. Baruch, son of one of President-elect Roosevelt's financial advisers who is mentioned as a likely possibility for next Secretary of the Treasury, did not find his bride in a "five-and-ten-cent-store" like the happy man in the song, but he did find her in a gift shoppe, where her illusions about romance and marriage had become sadly in need of repair. The lady who is Mrs. Bernard M. Baruch, Jr., today was then Miss Winifred Mann, 28 and beautiful. Her daily stint at the London department store where she was employed before romance dawned included the keeping of "Book of Brides," wherein London ladies who expected to trip to the altar in the near future recorded the list of presents they desired from their friends. It was due to her dealings with these brides-to-be that the young salesgirl developed an attitude of cynicism towards romance and marriage, for she discovered that a large percentage of the future brides worried more about the gifts they hoped to receive than they did about the husband they were getting. But Winifred forgot all about her disillusionment when young Barney came along. The American Prince Charming restored a few of her shattered ideals and finally persuaded her to say "yes." However, Winifred changed her mind and young Baruch returned to America to continue his bombardment of her heart by cable and trans-Atlantic phone, with the result that they were married in Geneva, Switzerland, last September. The newly-weds are now honeymooning "somewhere in these United States" with the blessing of both their parents.
